

Name: Admiral Kirti Thel

Species: Selonian

Physical description: Admiral Kirti Thel stands at 1.8 meters. She has defined thick muscles that are hidden underneath her dark brown fur. Her belly underneath her chin is covered in black fur. She has no noticeable scars. Her eyes are dark almond. She has long black coiled locks that reach to her shoulders. They are usually pulled back by the headpiece armor that Selonians usually wear.

Personality and character quirks: When she talks, it almost sounds like bark between words. Kirti is known to remain calm in dire situations but has the tendency to make dark humor in between much to her comrades dismay.

History: Kirti was born on Selen by accident. Selonians are known for underground caverns and that it's usually one female that are responsible for giving birth to the next generation. The Leader of her Den at that time was visiting Selen for Diplomatic matters and thought she was able to hold onto the birth but ended up giving birth to Kirti underneath the Selen's waves. Kirti went with her family but they raised her to be prepared for Selen, believing that her early birth under their waters meant she was destined for great things on Selen and not at her home.

They trained her religiously and aggressively. She was to represent their breed. They got information of Dajorra planets topography and bathymetry and Kirti studied it and knew it like the back of her paw. At the age of fourteen, she left her home den and went to her true home, Selen. She joined the ANC (Arcona Navy Corps) at the young age of sixteen and quickly earned the respect of her peers. They shunned her away at first when she gave advice on how to approach a battle until they realized she was right. Due to her age, they could not rank her up but they were willing to lend a listening ear.

Now at age thirty-five, Kirti stands at Admiral position she rightfully earned time and time again. She's still ruthless and cunning as she was at age fourteen.