

Episode VII: The Yuuzhan Vong (Introduction crawl)

It is 25ABY. The suppressive rule of the Galactic Empire and the struggle of the Rebel Alliance are long over...but not long forgotten. In its place now stands the New Republic now by Borsk Fey'la, who has replaced Princess Leia Organa Solo as Chief of State.

Luke Skywalker has risen to become Grand Master of the New Jedi Order, recruiting his members from across the Galaxy, now once again they stand ready to face the evils every corner of known space has to throw at them.

Though it seems something has stirred from beyond the Galaxy to meet this challenge. A previously unknown race called the Yuuzhan Vong have begun to attack planets in the Outer Rim, and they show no signs of slowing down.

Now the Vong have set their sights on a planet known as Sernpidal, altering the trajectory of one of the moons, causing it to head towards the planet's surface. Desperate to help evacuate survivors; Captain Han Solo and his son Anakin Solo along with Chewbacca, head to Sernpidal aboard the Millennium Falcon.