

The Causation of Heroics

Evant Taelyan #9118

The Empire of Scholae Palatinae spans six planets and twenty six moons that it calls home as it grows, expands and boons.

At the center of this was the capital city of Ohmen protected by the mountains of Judecca and its age was golden.

No greater force has ever assembled to serve and protect than a perfect combination of soldiers and Dark Jedi who garnered the upmost of respect. Soldiers of the Imperial Scholae Guard ready to protect at every waking hour, while Dark Jedi of Scholae Palatinae protect one of their greatest sources of power.

Dangerous well trained enemies and hulking beasts descended on the town and the Dark Jedi were at the front of the lines hacking and slashing and taking them down. The enemies were bloodthirsty and relentless in their pursuit of disorder yet the Dark Jedi would take center stage to draw their attention and make order.

Vile gasses and fear toxins spread across the city threatening Imperial lives and the Dark Jedi made sure they made it to safety out of harm's way so everyone survives. There were dangers all over the street so quickly during the initial assault so the Dark Jedi made up for lost time and ushered citizens into various secure vaults.

For the Dark Jedi, the safety and security of the Empire is a top priority. It is the most important thing to Scholae Palatinae, maintaining power to achieve victory. The heroic acts of the day were carried out by all as they expressed their authority. It was their home, and nobody would take that way.
