

TALDRYAN OPERATIONS BATTLE ASSESSMENT

FLEET ACTION TALSOC-KTFW-0208

OPERATION PURPLE VRELT

TALSEC-OUC-N13

Naval Intelligence Packet: VSD Endor's Triumph

Surveillance Team OUC-N-A

Vessel: VSD Endor's Triumph
Model: Victory-II Class Star Destroyer
Class: Star Destroyer
Manufacturer: Kuat Drive Yards
Length: 900m

Weapons Loadout:

- 10 Light Quad Turbolasers
- 20 Heavy Double Turbolasers
- 10 Heavy Ion Cannons
- 10 Tractor Beam Projectors

Hull Integrity: Titanium-reinforced Alusteel - 100%

Weapons Integrity: 100%

Shield Integrity: Unknown - 100%

Sensors Integrity: 100%

Begin Brief

Cobbled together by junkers in a makeshift shipyard above New Tython, the Endor's Triumph nevertheless was worked up to have similar battle characteristics to an early model Victory-II Class star destroyer. There is some question as to the tenacity of the warriors who serve Odan-Urr, and early infiltrations onto the maintenance crews and communications intercepts indicate that discipline is less than would be expected from a more established Navy.

The Kotahitanga-Unity Defense Force lacks a suitable training academy, and as such the performance metrics of its crews leave this ship vulnerable to nearly any other Navy in the Brotherhood, let alone Taldryan's.

The Endor's Triumph is commanded by Captain Cho Manawek, a Pantoran who volunteered early on in the colonization of New Tython. Little else is known about the man beyond the fact that he shares his employers sentimentalities, and the best way to defeat this foe is to force him to choose between himself and innocent bystanders. The greater good is easily exploitable.

ARCHIVED UPDATE: Intercepted communique has indicated that for the foreseeable future the Endor's Triumph and A/CRV Pride of Owyhyee will be operating in concert at all times.

FLASH UPDATE: Paladin Squadron, a squadron of T-65 X-Wings is currently attached to VSD Endor's Triumph.

