Begin Brief

Captured during an operation on New Tython, the Pride has served as a base of operations for a Jedi Strike team known as the Knights of Allusis. Close proximity to a high concentration of Foxtrot Uniforms makes attempting infiltration of this vessel less than ideal. Little needs to be said about the combat capabilities of this ship however, beyond the fact that it is a standard Assassin-class corvette. It is useful for dissuading the occasional pirate, but in larger fleet engagements can be dispatched at the convenience of any larger ship of the line.

ARCHIVED UPDATE: Intercepted communique has indicated that for the foreseeable future the A/CRV Pride of Owyhyee will be attached to the VSD Endor's Triumph at all times.
