	Privateer, Equite, Resistance/New Republic
	Light Side Path, Loyalist
	Weapons Specialist, Droid Male, Ambidextrous
Height: 0.67 m (0'26"), Weight: 30 kgs (66.1 lbs), Age: +/- 20 years
Physical Description			Weapon Loadout
As a BB-unit, BB-8's body is spherical with a domed head that contains most of the droids 'brain'. His body is perfectly round but contains many little hatches behind which lie a multitude of tools such as a torch and an arc welder. BB-8's paintjob is mostly white, covered in patches of silver and orange, and a black eyepiece.			<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>* Arc Welder</li><li>* Liquid-cable launchers</li><li>* Lighter (Blowtorch)</li><li>* Hologram projector</li></ul>
Movement consists of rolling, where the body rotates and the head is kept in place by a gyro. To access his tools, BB-8 must stop at the precise moment in order to align the tool's exit point with the target.
General Aspects
You Stupid Little Astrodroid! Because of his size and cute shape, BB-8 is often overlooked by both his friends and his enemies. This usually results in a tirade of beeps and whistles as he protests to being left out.			I'm Sorry, What Was That? BB-8 is not equipped with a vocoder, which limits him to speaking in beeps and whistles, which is also known as Binary, or droidspeak. This causes the occasional problem as not everyone can understand Binary.
Personality Aspects
Loyal To A T. BB-8 is incredibly loyal to his Master, Poe Dameron. He will do anything to aid his Master, including abandoning them to follow an order given. This holds true even when BB-8 believes his Master to be dead, he will still follow the orders given to him by his Master.			Manipulative? Me? BB-8 is cute, and he knows this. By adopting certain mannerisms, BB-8 has learned to manipulate both his Master and other humans into doing things that further his own (or his master's) cause.

Combat Aspects

A Tool For Every Job.

While he doesn't have an actual weapon, BB-8 has a tool for just about every job. From blow-torches, to computer-interfaces, to holograms and an arc-welder, BB-8 has it all. He has no quarrel is using these tools as a weapon in combat.

Not Built For Combat.

BB-8 is not built for combat. He's an astrodroid, a technician, a repairbot. He'd much rather slip around on oil than roll between explosions and getting shot at.

However, if he's forced into combat he will do whatever he can to protect those he cares about.
