

During his toddler years, Nosolar Qor came across a young pilot by the name of Nikola Valtiere who taught the boy on Dac to harness his uncaring demeanor into anger and strength. Nosolar was taught the ways of Echani, how to ambush strong foes and the use of tactics. As the young Quarren grew older each day, he distanced himself from the war and his parents by training with Valtiere. The young pilot then brought his own master, Nadrin Erinos Arconae, who felt the Force was locked inside Nosolar. He urged his apprentice to teach him the Sith ways, while Nadrin harnessed the boy's use of the Dark Side and the Sith Code.
