

Daleem: Crystalline Island

The Planet of Daleem can be plagued with electrical storms mostly up in the atmosphere that can last from a week to a month. On the small tourist island comprised of nothing but crystals made of an unknown structure while being devoid of any flora and fauna, people can come and go as long as not a single crystal is taken. The Crystals color can range from all over the spectrum.