

For the Empire!

The Time to strike has come

There is only time for now

The enemy is a mere scum

They will be forced to bow

The might of Scholae is here

We no longer have to cower

All our enemies will disappear

Our united strength is our power

We will trample upon anyone in our way

And maintain order in the system

There will be no schism

Anyone that defies us will pay

We will reach a golden age

One that we have never seen before

Scholae is out of its cage

The clan will climb higher and soar
