

The Dagger of Plagueis

The Dagger of Plagueis is a sacred artifact belonging to Clan Plagueis. Unlike other sacramental weapons, the Dagger of Plagueis is a singular weapon, and not used for combat or other martial uses, and is instead held as a temporary mark of honor for those that have served the Dread Lord and provided special service to the throne.

The dagger itself is a fairly simple blade that was carried by a Black Sun assassin. It was used in an attempt on the life of the Clan's namesake Darth Plagueis sometime prior to 75 BBY. The blade itself is still stained with the blood of the dark lord himself. Given that it still carries the blood of Plagueis upon it, it is never used as a combat weapon and is instead more akin to a trophy or artifact.
