

Product 1 (Blaster Pistol)

Still laughing (4 Stars)

I got two of these for an elaborate practical joke. The unaltered model works great. Amazing stopping power, nice comfy grip, pretty quiet for a blaster. My coworker N'grruhrhur was chomping at the bit to take a few potshots with it, so I gave him the other model I'd put an unstable power pack into. HILARIOUS! You should have seen the look on what was left of his face.

I have to dock it a star, though, cause the smouldering bits of N'grruhrhur screwed up my carpet and I can't get the stains out. That, and I don't have eyebrows anymore. Talk about friendly fire!

Product 2 (TT-8L/Y7 Droid)

What the hell kind of door do you people have? (1 Star)

I bought one of these things for my apartment, thinking that the little eye-stalk would pop out and scare the neighbors' bratty kids. The problem is that the stupid thing is like 30cm deep. I cut the hole out of my door and managed to get it installed, but every time the eye pops back into its casing the whole thing falls off and leaves a gaping hole in my door. I got robbed twice already this week! The TT-8L/XSS model is way better but I just don't have the floor space.

Product 3 (Flamethrower)

Bought this to clean my dead parents' house (5 Stars)

I recently inherited the old family homestead on Tattooine and the place was disgusting. Filthy, tons of pests, tacky furniture, the works. All my friends suggested using droids but I've found they have a lot of trouble with this bigger pests, so I figured I'd give this bad boy a go instead. All that grime? Gone! Even the fresher scum. The womp rats? Gone! My parents' ugly furniture? Gone! My parents' ugly corpses? Gone! I haven't had the chance to try it on local law enforcement yet, but this baby has handled everything short of durasteel so I'm confident it'll get the job done.
