

Headshot/Image	Mant Krafin Raider Ace Male Mon Calamari, Left handed Height: 1.67m / 5'6" . , Weight: 70 kgs / 154lb
Physical Description A Mon Calamari of average height, Mant Krafin would not stand out in a crowd of his own race. His dark, fish-like eyes and facial expressions give absolutely nothing away. His left arm has been replaced with a cybernetic that allows him to attach a variety of tools directly to the hand socket at the end.		Loadout Weapons <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * DLT-19 Blaster * Vibro-Blade
General Aspects
Any Ship, Any Time, Anywhere Mant Krafin has become known throughout the Collective as ‘the Courier’. Having long made his living stealing ships to order, he was eventually recruited into the Technocratic Guild. Krafin’s skills have left as a key part of the Technocratic Guild’s ‘acquisitions’ arm.		Flight Of The Navigator Aside from being an excellent pilot, Mant Krafin has developed a keen interest in navigation. He knows all major and minor hyperspace routes like the back of his hand.
Personality Aspects
Local Government For Local People Mant Krafin, having seen the damage that successive galactic wide governments have caused, believes that each system should govern itself independently. This belief results in Mant being seen as a crazed xenophobe, limiting his ability to work with others.		I Don’t Care What You Do With It Mant Krafin does not consider himself a bad person. To that end, all jobs he accepts come with the understanding that he will not be told what the ship he’s acquiring will be used for. With such contempt for consequence, Krafin appears cold and distant, leaving him with few friends.
Combat Aspects
Just Get Me To The Ship Although a decent shot with a blaster, Mant Krafin’s true ability is in the cockpit. In any given combat situation, he will attempt to get on board the nearest armed ship as quickly as possible.		Stabby Stab Stab (When Your Back Is Turned) Mant Krafin does not care about honour. If he sees an opportunity to slide his vibro-blade between an unsuspecting enemy’s shoulder blades, he will take it. When face-to-face with an enemy, Mant is completely unable to use his vibro-blade in an effective manner.
