Notes/Extra

Mavet was used as a subject of experiments by a Dark Jedi within the Brotherhood until he was left behind in a hasty retreat as a result of the intra-organizational turmoil that is a common feature of the DJB. When Capital Enterprise agents learned of the abandoned facility Technocrat techs and scientists were dispatched to recover any useful equipment or information that was left behind, finding Mavet in the process. The Ewok was far from a scared prisoner and instead begged those that found him to take him with them and help him get revenge. Having been subject to intense torture by his former master, the diminutive alien had no qualms volunteering for increasingly intrusive enhancements by the Technocrats. With the rage burning inside him now backed up by the impressive cybernetic enhancements given to him by his new allies Mavet prowls the frontlines looking to get revenge on any Force User that stands in his way.
