

The Dajorra Institute for Contamination Containment, AKA:DICC

Location:

Just Outside Estel City

Purpose:

The containment, research, and destruction of biological, biochemical, and viral compounds and diseases.

Controlling Parties:

The Board of Directors of SIMASS are considered the controlling party of the facility.

Description:

A heavily fortified building near the northern outskirts of Estel City, The Dajorra Institute for Contamination Containment was founded and developed by the newly opened Selen Institute for Medical Advancement and Scientific Studies(SIMASS). Containing viral and bacterial diseases, as well as chemical compounds that are deemed too dangerous for public study, this facility has been outfitted with the most advanced research equipment to develop cures and antitoxins that will hopefully be used to keep Arcona and the Dajorra system safe.

Heavily secured entrances include magnetic detection software, DNA scanning, and optic sensors. Only highly authorized personnel are allowed entrance and unauthorized personnel are requested to leave twice before action, nonlethal and then lethal, is taken to ensure the buildings safety and security.

The building has three floors above ground which are mainly used for office space and patient care that cannot be handled in other medical facilities. Beneath the surface though are four levels of advanced research laboratories, and two levels of heavily fortified and guarded vaults which contain sterile rooms holding compressed strains of deadly compounds.

The facility was built to look polished and clean with tall transparisteel windows and chromium coated reinforced durasteel walls. A heavily sterilized environment is necessary for stopping the spread of possible contamination. The lighting is kept white and bright for the the best ease of vision for the workers. The lights are able to switch to a *black light* setting for cleaning inspection, and *red warning* lighting for highly improbable security breaches.

In the possibility of an outbreak, the facility is designed to go into a mandatory lockdown which will trap all inhabitants inside the building and keep anyone from entering. The walls are even designed to course with a specific charge of electricity that is known to deflect lightsabers. The only way to escape is known by the top leadership of the facility and requires a biometric scan showing you are not contaminated before exiting is possible. If the contamination is not suppressed or contained within six hours the facility is designed to burn at hot enough temperatures to destroy the facility, the contamination, and anyone inside.

***TOP. SECRET. FOR TOP BRANCH AUTHORISED PERSONNEL ONLY*****

The secret bottom floor of the facility is another series of laboratories where specialized minds are working on newly developed biological weapons. Working closely with SIMASS, these developers are tasked with the experimentation and testing of weaponized compounds on criminals and POW's that are deemed too dangerous for regular incarceration.
