

Wook Wook Inn

Hoorkhukk, Kashyyyk

Derek Cinn

Stayed 1 week ago

I stayed here because it was the only one that had rooms available and now I know why. The moment I entered the room, I was covered in bits of wookiee hair. I informed the staff and grumpy looking maid stumbles down the hall. As she sweeps the hair out, She begins to shed and just replaces it, she continued this endless cycle of hair for an hour before I stopped her.

I cleaned it myself and realized that the decor was more for wookiee guests than humans. The armor and bones of wookiee hunters, many of whom I idolize, hung from the walls. At this point I felt unwelcome. I decided to demand change. The front desk wookiee was so shaggy, I wasn't sure if he was dead or just ignoring me.

I decide then and there that I couldn't handle this. I have updated the pictures on this site. Overall I'd give it a 1.5 star but after my changes, Its more of a .5 star unless you're from Mustafar. The burning hair, might put you off though. Great location for wookie hunters however, and the food is fantastic. Didn't get a chance to try the breakfast though.
