

Name: Commanding Officer Briar

Sex: Female

Gender: Human

Height: 5'8"

Weight: 155 lbs

Hair: Brown

History:

Upon leaving her wicked mother on Dathomir, Briar (Rose) joined a mercenary in an attempt to reunite with her fiancé. After finding that her fiancé, along with her people, had been massacred by a poison that creates a sleep-like paralysis, Briar fled the system and eventually joined the SRI. Though born of royalty, she has no leadership skills. Nevertheless, through faking documentation and credentials she has forged her way and risen to a position of Commanding Officer. Even though she is lacking in military experience, her troops are drawn to her charisma. One may find themselves entranced by her musical voice.

Special Traits:

Briar has an uncanny understanding of animals of the wilderness. It seems she can almost speak directly to creatures indigenous to an area.

Inquiry:

Briar cannot control her Officer Uniform. Although it appears in regulation, the uniform will randomly change from blue to red. No reason of this is yet to be found.
