

THE COLLECTIVE- OUR MORTAL ENEMIES

Who They Are and Why They Are Dangerous

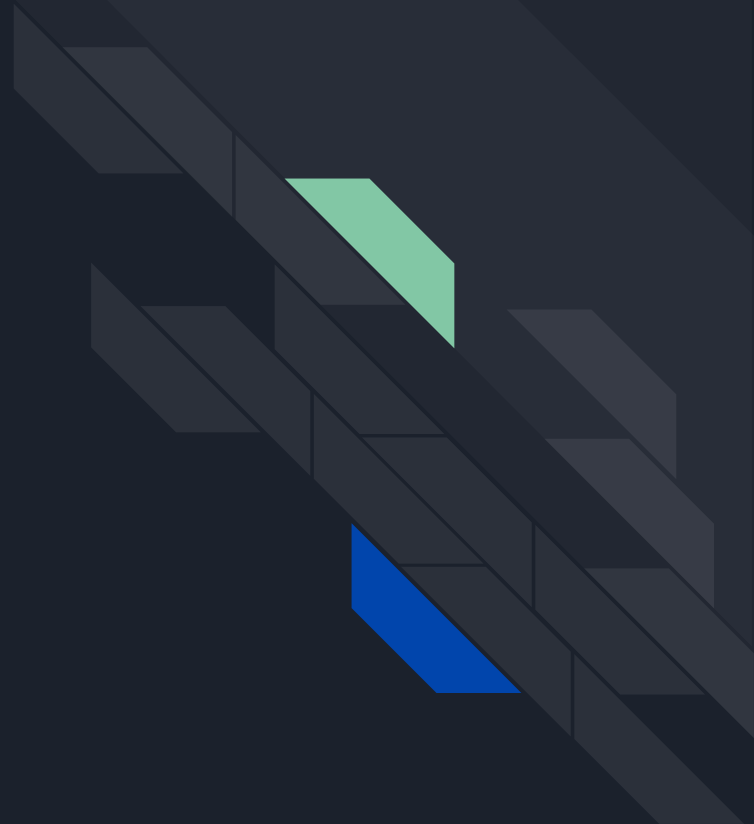

A Clan Plagueis
Informational Module

OBJECTIVES

- To inform members of the Plagueis Organization on the nature of “The Collective”
- To clarify why “The Collective” is a dangerous adversary
- To show why we are clearly a superior entity
- To reinforce why you should kill them

WHO ARE THE COLLECTIVE?

Everything You Wanted To Know About The Collective (But Were Too Afraid To Ask).

- A “Collective” comprised of three organizations attempting to have strength in numbers.
- Led by the ridiculous fanatic, Rath Oligard and a groups of his closest confidants and fellow zealots.
- Bolster their number through spreading lies and deceptions in regards to Force users and the Brotherhood in particular.
- Their primary goal is to rid the galaxy of that which they fear and don’t understand, the Force.

<< Note the simple and unappealing logo

Rath Oligard, Savior or Raging Madman?

Rath sees himself as the saviour of the galaxy and protector of the weak and downtrodden, the enigmatic leader that will destroy the Brotherhood and set the galaxy free.

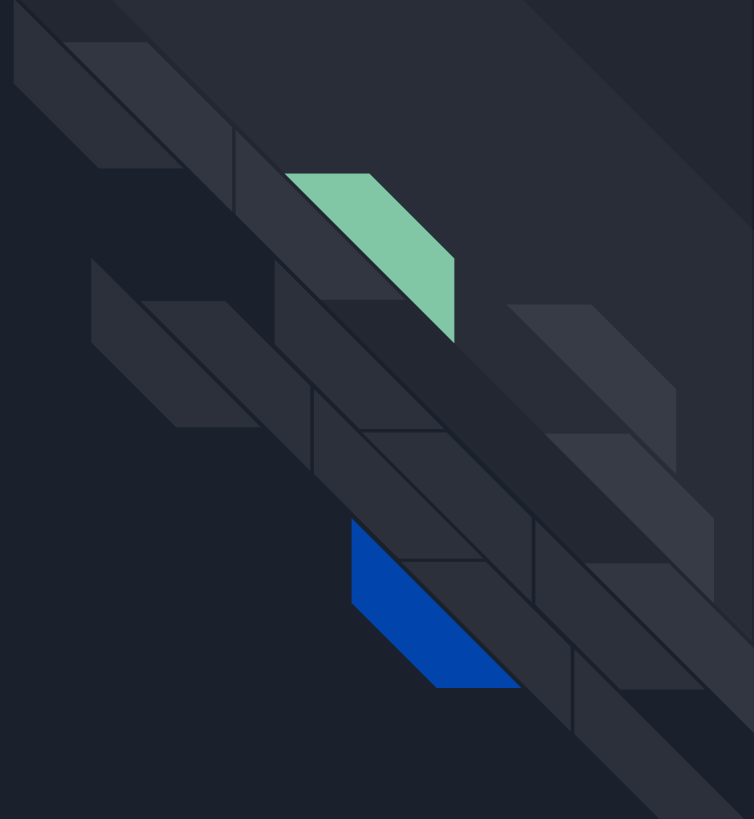

But the reality?

This entire campaign of hate is based in a deep seeded jealousy. Rath is a disgraced, former member of the Iron Forces who went into a self imposed exile due to his own failures. Always envious of those who's like him, are capable of harnessing the power of the Force he has vowed to destroy it.

Why The Collective is Dangerous

(In addition to the fact that they're trying to kill us)

They Hate What They Can't Have or Understand

- The peons of the Collective have been whipped into a frenzy through the lies of Rath Oligard and his band of “yes men”. The leaders of the Collective are jealous of the power of the Force harnessed by the Brotherhood and live by the belief that if they can't have it, no one can.
- Because of the lies spread about the true nature of the Force, the average member of the Collective is taught to fear what they don't understand.
- This fear drives them to kill every last Force User and they will not stop until they've either done that or we stop them
- And just so it's clear, they even hate THE LIGHTIES! Even more than us!

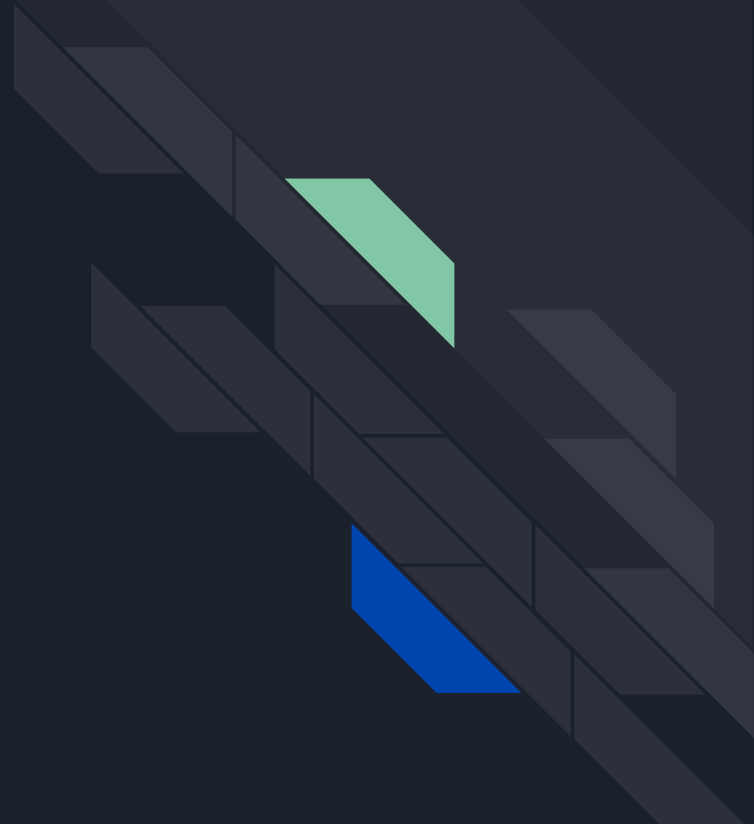

Radical Experimentation

- Intelligence has shown that the so called “Technocratic Guild” (one of the groups Oligard has ensnared) have conducted cybernetic experiments on their soldiers
- Further, they have this unnatural desire for all their soldiers to look “perfect” and therefore identical.
 - Thus, they perform unnecessary and costly surgery to flatten their features
 - This is in addition to the cybernetic modifications
- Since it’s obvious no one would ever voluntarily do these things, what moral high ground could they possibly have?
- Even their leaders have droid parts, like this >>>>

(Yeah, these guys are so bad, they even have Mecha Ithorians!)

Why We Are Better
Than Them

The Force Is With (Most Of) Us!

- The Force exists in all things throughout the galaxy, whether someone is able to harness this power or not does not change this fact.
- With the Collective's goal being to remove the perceived blight that is the Force there is one MAJOR oversight. That would require the Collective to destroy absolutely everything, does that sound like something the saviours of the galaxy would do?

We Are Accepting of All!

- Unlike the oppressive leadership of the Collective, the Brotherhood understands that each and every being has value
- Don't have the Force? So what! As long as you are capable, loyal, and generate some amount of revenue, you're welcome with us!

Humane Treatment for All!

- It doesn't matter who you are or how you came to serve us, we accept you just the way you are
- We won't change your nose, bleach your skin, or give you weird robot arms sprouting out of your back (unless you want them, they are kinda cool)
- We even care for our non-voluntary labor force better than they care for their own soldiers!

What Should You Do
About Them?

THEM
ALL!

(Or add them to our non-voluntary labor force, both are acceptable)

(Also, take their stuff. We can use their stuff)
