

Halloween Chills

A Submission to the Competition:
Scary Stanzas

Written by Reiden Karr (10106)

Now is the time of year
Filled with all the things you fear
With eerie nights
And spooky sights

When the witches brew
And ghosts say "boo!"
With the cauldron's bubble
Comes all sorts of trouble

Fangs with blood run red
Filling souls with dread
The skeletons walk
And werewolves stalk

Soon you'll find what goes bump in the night
Giving all a great fright
Children beware
You're in for a scare
