

Sheysi - Mirialan female

Nurse at the 40th Street Medical Clinic
25 years old, 5'9'', 135 lbs, right-handed

Swamp-green skin tone, teal blue eyes. Circle markings just below her pupils as well as a set of circle markings to replace eyebrows. Her chestnut-brown hair is consistently tied up, as are the Medical Clinic's requirements for nurses. She also wears white scrubs to fit the customs of the Clinic.

Sheysi was born to her loving parents Shae and Leysi in Estle City. Despite her rough childhood on the Capac Ring surrounded by smugglers and thieves, she grew an overwhelming love for the city and immediately started serving those in her community once she was old enough. The only time that Sheysi left the Capac Ring was when she went to study nursing at the Huascar Ring to eventually graduate at age 23. She spends her time either at work in the Clinic with walk-in patients or on the streets feeding the homeless. Despite her youth and lack of children, she has a very nurturing spirit like that of a mother to each and every single person she meets. She hopes to have her own children someday but also hopes to continue her work serving Estle City at the clinic. She still lives with her mother and father. Sheysi is a hopeless romantic and can be rather naive with her sensitive nature despite what her instincts may tell her to do.

---

Don'noto - Twi'lek Male

Doctor & owner at the 40th Street Medical Clinic
40 years old, 6'2'', 180 lbs, left-handed

Maroon skin tone, light-grey eyes. Darker markings on head-tails. His glasses are always on unless he's doing paperwork. The grey garbs he wears depict his doctorate status at the Clinic

Don'noto is one of five brothers born to Kai'noto and his late mother Fae'noto. He was born and raised on the Huascar Ring of Estle City, and grew accustomed to a luxurious lifestyle. His father was a general of the city and held integrity and honor as very esteemed traits in his sons. Once Don'noto was born, his mother Fae'noto unfortunately did not make it through childbirth. His father partially blamed Don'noto for this, and thus treated him as the insignificant son. All of Don'noto's siblings grew up in their father's footsteps and became strong soldiers of the Arconae army except for him. He always had a strong passion for medicine and eventually studied to become a doctor in hopes of changing Estle City's Capac Ring for the better. His favourite motto is "you are only as strong as your weakest link", and thus allows this motto to drive him to better help the sick in the district. He founded his own clinic at the age of 30 using what little of his father's inheritance he was allowed to receive once he graduated and was forfeited from his family. He has a rather serious, but kind nature and tends to be introverted unless forced to speak.