

CLASSIFIED

KALEE REECHI

Reaver, Order of the Mercenary
Director, Umbaran Female, Left Handed
Height: 1.9m / 6'2"ft. , Weight: 83kgs / 183lbs Age: 39 years

Physical Description

Kalee's pale white skin is typical of her species. Her blue eyes are a bright spot on her otherwise bland face. Her head and body is completely hairless. Kalee doesn't have any significant scars, but does sport a tattoo of the Severian Principate logo on the back of her left hand.

Loadout Weapons

- * Pylat Bird
- * H-Series Performance Datapad
- * Repulsor Dart Shooter
- * Synergy WLD-5 Peacekeeper

General Aspects

Mad World

Reechi has a sick sense of humor, viewing the world through dark colored glass. She has a biting sense of black humor, often laughing at things that most people would find reprehensible or down right soul crushing. As a result, those that are not used to her brand of humor often find Reechi downright unbearable or overly morbid. At the same time, her cynicism can be used for seeing through the optimistic altruism of those she encounters.

Former Slave

Kalee Reechi grew up never knowing her family. She was sold into slavery very young, and was put to work almost immediately. However, due to her age, Reechi bounced from owner to owner until she became a teenager. Having to endure horrible treatment during this time in her life, Reechi has lingering trust issues while carrying an absolute hatred towards slavers. If confronted with acts of slavery, she will most likely lash out in some way, regardless of if it compromises her objective.

Personality Aspects

I Am Not A Committee!

Reechi likes to engage in detailed discussions and think through situations carefully, often collaborating with others to seek their opinions before deciding on the best course of action. While this often ensures Reechi is more fail and well-respected amongst her peers, sometimes others do not have time to discuss this in a committee.

Straight Shooter

Reechi tells it like she sees it, when she thinks it; and she doesn't try to sugar coat what she says.

Combat Aspects

Bothans Do It From Behind

Reechi will never go into any situation head-on. Whether it be combat or just strolling down the street, she will stick to the shadows or cloak themselves in the Force. The less they are seen the better. If they cannot sneak up on someone, then Reechi will not bother confronting them.

Keeping My Distance

Reechi vastly prefers ranged combat, taking every opportunity to use skills and Force Powers to disengage from melee and instead fight at range, so much so that he has become competent at staying out of melee in the first place.

Notes/Extra

Kalee Reechi was born into slavery and was abused for many years by many different masters. Throughout her struggles, she was always able to convince those around her to persevere and come out on the other side. She eventually saved up enough credits to buy her own freedom. Because of her mindset and dedication, Kalee found herself stepping into senior management of the largest mining company in the Outer Rim. Through these connections, she was able to ally with the other members of the Triumvirate to help found the Severian Principate.
