Background/History:

At the core of the Severian Principate is the Senate. At the core of the Senate is the Severian Electorate Commission. The SEC is a sworn group of dedicated Senators who are tasked by the Triumvirate to ensure that the members who are elected to the Senate do not come with any secrets. The Commission has been granted full authority to investigate Senators and would-be Senators alike. A seat on the Commission is considered a life appointment and can only end through death.

The Commission is widely seen by many as a selection committee, choosing the candidates that member planets may vote for. Because of this, the members of the SEC are among the most corrupt in the Senate, often accepting the most lavish of gifts and bribes in exchange for their vote of confidence.
