

Mustafar Yelp Review

Mustafar Rock Gardens

3 out of 5 stars

The Rock Gardens I visited during my trip to Mustafar were nice enough, with plenty of volcanic refuse to view and admire. There were a few stones in particular that stood out, definitely worth looking at for at least ten seconds. The Refreshment Bar also was nice to have. The food, while a bit too hot for my tastes, was well prepared and fulfilled its purpose of satiating my hunger.

Now, however, we have to touch a bit on the negatives. The open lava pools seemed a bit dangerous, as evidenced by the young boy who fell into one. Fortunately, he died a quick death. In addition, the heat of the room caused most of the beverages provided by the refreshment bar to evaporate in a matter of minutes. This might not be such an issue if the heat of the room also didn't cause you to sweat so much, requiring you to keep a solid intake of fluids in order to stay hydrated.

Overall, my experience was positive but there were definitely some areas that the management could improve in. I would certainly consider visiting again were I to return to Mustafar, but for the faint of heart, this attraction might prove to be a bit much for you. If you are a fan of rocks, particularly those of the volcanic variety, this is a must-see.
