

Before Starting: Go to "File" -> "Make a Copy" and then proceed with making your NPC!

	Telaris "Mav" Cantor Grand Master [Sith] [Seeker] Male Human, Right Handed Height: 1.9 m / 6'3" - Weight: 90.0 kg / 198 lbs
Physical Description		Loadout Equipment / Weapons
A frankly average looking Human male with frankly average good looks, but being a Grand Master obviously makes all the ladies (and some of the lads) swoon at the sight of his thin, black mustache that's gone out of style last time Lando owned a Cloud City. It does go with his brown eyes and soured ancestry.*		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * 1x GOLDEN lightsaber (Bling!) * 1x Armory DL-44 blaster (pleb) * 1x Smoke grenade * 1x EMP grenade
Gaping Mav He's got a really big mouth. Not only figuratively, but physically too. You wouldn't know it when he speaks, but he can swallow a cantaloupe without choking.		Grande Mastere He's a grand master and everyone knows it. He can't really hide the fact he's so gosh-darn powerful. Everyone who meets him instantly just sense it and it also paints a huge target on his back. Such is the way of the Sithy people that wherever he goes, there will be someone trying to murder him. It's not his fault, it's just the way he was elected.
Personality Aspects
Old and Tired Mav does not understand memes, pop-culture references, or really anything that took place since the Dark Crusade. Attempts to mock him using hip slang or cool digs that would leave a trendy scarf-wearing Jedi sent to the medical ward for sick burns will simply anger and confuse him.		I'll let my minions take care of it Mav is, as any grand master should be, fundamentally bored with the world around him. Even to the extent of letting his lackeys do essentially everything for him, including designing his personality. Others might consider this merely a poorly veiled excuse for underlying schizophrenia, but in reality he merely adopts whatever traits his underling du jour comes up for that encounter.
I'm in Charrge now! Mav likes to make sure everyone knows he's in charge. Although this certainly ensures there are no questions regarding chain of command, it does detract from his abilities being used to actually lead formations into combat.		My Numbers are Highest in All the Land! Being a Grand Master, Mav has gained an innate understanding of the DJB and the way the world works. He thus knows he is the most skilled, most dashing and most handsomest combatant out there and will act accordingly; with supreme arrogance and suave skill, flaunting his mastery over lesser foes that could not hope to get on his level.
