

Dad,

Today I saw another one of those force wielders jab their laser sword through a slew of unnamed people. Again. I came here, against your wishes, because they said they would protect us. Even the friendly ones are dangerous. I saw a purple Twi'lek stab someone in the collarbones...she was laughing. I'm sorry for leaving, I made a mistake. Such a terrible mistake. I'm sorry and I love you. Give mom my love and tell my sister to stay away. The Brotherhood are not our saviours or our friends.
