

Dear Howie,

Were it not for the pile of bodies that little Aleena keeps creating, this holiday has been excellent. Your recommendation of visiting the Lyra Colony has been fruitful, they do indeed have a very hoppy beer. I have managed to secure you 20 cases despite fierce opposition from our collective neighbours. Did you know that beer drowns people faster than water? I do now.

Hope to see you on Caelus soon my friend, Spanky's is under construction.
