Proposed Store: Arx Starship Acquisitions

Proposed Rarity: Rare

Item Description:

The Aiwha-class Amphibious Fighter is a 12.6-meter long submersible starship. Inspired by its cetacean namesake, the Aiwha is capable of atmospheric, real space and underwater flight. Utilized for the defense of their headquarters by the Severian Principate on the oceanic world of Sirmium, the Aiwa exhibits exceptional speed and maneuverability underwater, aided by its capacity to shift its wing configuration. Both speed and maneuverability suffer once the fighter surfaces, however, with its worst performance in real space, where it's better suited to personal transport than combat.

Aesthetically, the Aiwha is a stylized and somewhat miniaturized version of its namesake, with its designers opting for a streamlined style that would give it the speed and adaptability it needed to chase and eliminate threats above and below the sea.
