

Little is known about the ancient ruins underneath Lyra Colony. Archaeological digs have uncovered numerous artifacts, murals and kyber crystals strewn throughout the complex which seems to be built deep into the ground. Archaeologists have managed to uncover many texts related to the ancient Jedi order called the Ordu Aspectu and numerous defunct technologies.

The caves enhance those with Force abilities, but also corrupts their wills and minds as spirits of the deceased still haunt the temple. And the kyber crystals within the wall linings also are unstable and prone to exploding with concentrated use of force powers like lightning and other projected powers. This is why it was abandoned by the Jedi as they took too many casualties from mining them.

Crypts of old Jedi and Sith are discovered within the catacombs beneath and the constant battles in the afterlife have rocked its foundations. Anyone entering is subjected to constant tries at being possessed by the spirits within.
