

My dearest step-mother,

I hope all is well with you. I thought I'd reach out to you considering I've now become part of a war. This new "family" I've joined has been set up by an enemy they've been fighting for awhile now. One that despises Force users and this Brotherhood. This isn't my first time in action, but I've never been to war before, so I'm not exactly sure what to expect. Currently, I'm waiting for my House leader to return with further orders. I promise you that I will survive this. You need not worry.

Love,

Féanor Láng