

Ordu Aspectu Temple

Listening carefully one could hear the bustling busy life and construction of the Lyra Colony that sat above this ancient Jedi Temple. There is very little breezy to move around the stale air thanks to the recent activities of entering the Temple. Entering the Temple in either one of the entrances one would notice the different murals and kyber crystals all around them. Thanks to the kyber crystals producing a soft glow when a sapient being is near them, one is able to see clearly enough to move around. Walking along a few of the paths in the temple will lead on to a large chamber, perfect for anything someone could almost want.
