

Beuphus Mining Facility Sigma Nu

The Sigma Nu mining facility sits at the northern pole of the rocky asteroid of Beuphus. Due to the lack of gravity the atmosphere is non-existent and there are no local weather patterns. It is a bleak industrial complex devoid of life save for a skeleton staff of workers and their droid counterparts.

The buildings are a mixture of derelict drilling rigs, smelting lines, and conveyor systems. The facility itself is an old Imperial era prefabricated model with the command center and operations hub in the center radiating out with drilling rigs and maintenance tunnels.