

Title: How to Win Friends and Influence People Using the Force

Abstract: Everyone has heard about the tragic love story of Padme and Anakin. But it really shouldn't come as a surprise, given the quality of Anakin's pickup lines ("I don't like sand") and his idea of a date (Mustafar? Really?!).

I know what you're thinking: if the One Destined to Bring Balance to the Force can't seal the deal, then there's no hope for me. Fear not, all you would-be Romeos and Juliettes! Help has arrived!

Learn how to use the Force to simulate physical attraction! Discover ways to develop shared interests without losing your own identity! Achieve the man or woman (or both!) of your dreams, without coming off as a creepy stalker! As a bonus, most of these skills can be utilized to gain friends, allies and plucky sidekicks! At the end of this talk, you will be able to create lasting relationships using the Force.