

COU Pairings

Aura Ta'var - Celevon

While Aura is actually with Teikhos, this pair would be seen a lot together given their work duties. Aura would be constantly trying to hook him up with people but others would think they were on a date. Also, it makes Morgan angry. XD

Revak Kur - Shayna Phantom

Shayna has a master (Tisto) who likes to beat her up and Revak Kur might step in from time to time to stop it. This might endear Shayna to Revak. In addition, they are both of similar stature and like-minded heights tend to stick together.

Len Iode - Junazee

On the surface, one is a realist and the other an optimist but both are more similar than they think. Junazee doesn't follow a set code and Len doesn't understand its purpose but I imagine once they get fighting they will find themselves as soulmates. On an amusement point, Junazee's quips would pair nicely with Len's Chiss disposition.

Tisto Kingang - Aryn Jade Erinos

Aura would view this as a promising couple in terms of chaos and outright damage to the world around them. Aura would imagine that they would express themselves mostly in terms of combat and fight a lot. In the end they would probably enjoy that though.

Ethan Martes - Kasula Daegella

Both have pirate tendencies and a proclivity for ill-gotten gains. They may even meet each other often while moving around the galaxy. It's not hard to imagine Ethan and Kasula getting along or much more, assuming Petth doesn't kill them first.

Gavriel Kadesh - Vyr Vorsa

Vyr likes her Jedi and Gavriel is pretty strong in that regard. Vyr Vorsa also only needs a bit of water to live and Gavriel loves to eat a lot so at least these two won't be fighting for food. These two could work well together.

Jaftis Skrumm - Hedda Okami

Aura could see these two getting along due to their military/fighting disposition. Hedda would probably try to pull him into the pack and it would be fun to see. Lastly, Aura would love to see them fight together as fly boy and mando.

Maximus Alvinus - Aerwin Tribwell-Urr

Both characters have similar outlooks on the Force and Odan-Urr. Aura would pair them together because they would often work together towards the same goal and share mutual respect for each other. Worst case they would become good friends.

Essik Lyccane - Tanda Cal

Aura would at first pair them together because of like species. After finding out more about them she would be amused to see how Essik handles the more violent Tanda. It would either work out or not.

Sa Ool - Nikora Rhan

To start, both have a similar alignment and Nikora satisfies the key requirement of a non-human. In addition, their personalities might pair together quite well and lead to a harmonious couple. Aura wouldn't be sure if there were fireworks but they would at least be friends most likely.

Creshkin Vos - Kystal Rohana

Similar in rank and alignment, these two characters would have plenty of opportunity to interact with each other. In addition, their focuses pair well together. It amuses me that Kystal could find all the things that Creshkin loses.

Tyraal Bitshiver - Sirra

Aura's past apprentice has to deal with a lot of energy and people and would probably like a more quiet girl. Aura could see them going on missions together and she would hope that Tyraal would rub off on her and teach her how to be a full Jedi. If not, she would be happy if the two shadows got along nicely and made something of it.

Irhan Lo'Vex - Agate Gua'lara

Aura would believe that these two pair together nicely since both have similar life goals, that becoming a Jedi. She would like to encourage the creation of more Jedi and both have just begun their journey. They would probably become good friends easily and even better later if Aura manipulates it the right way.

Zeon Blacktooth - Luna Raven

Aura would pair them together just to see if they worked out. Both are following a similar path and Zeon could help her along the way. Worst case they end up as friends.

Ka Tarvitz - Artemis Edraven

Artemis is great with technology and Tarvitz is slowly becoming a robot. What's not to love? Jokes aside both are similar fighters and would get along nicely. Aura would hook them up to see if sparks fly, hoping Artemis doesn't view Tarvitz as a science project.

Aari Starfire - Lyron Horain

Both are just starting their journey in the Force. Aura would pair them together to see if any sparks fly. At worst they become friends.

Jalen Ramz - Rowena Magnuri

Both are decent fighters and might run into each other. Aura would pair them up and see what comes of it. At worst they become sparring buddies.

Talis DeMorte - Jamella Starkos

Aura would pair these together to have fun with it. Talis needs some discipline and Jamella has a collar. What could go wrong?

Ken Iode and Alethia Archenksova

Aura needs these two to be together. They are both ex-Imperials, one a spy and one a pilot. What's not to like?!

Kriegen VanWyck - Alora Kituri

This pairing amuses Aura because the former likes to make grand entrances as a hero and Alora is an actual hero. Both have similar alignments and would do well together, though Kriegen would feel a bit like a guard dog. They might work out.

Ryan Hawkins - Ysera Daegella

This isn't Aura's best pairing but they don't grab a buddy quick enough so Aura helps them out. She isn't sure if they go together well but if Ryan is okay with a racer maybe? It's worth a shot.

Note: I omit anyone who doesn't have a character sheet or might be leaving the clan soon, which removes the following:
