

Primitive Bounty Pucks

These bounty pucks were are historical artifacts of the ruthless bounty system that has been on Zsoldos for centuries. Before the days of holograms and the holonet, these pucks were the key to identifying a target and claiming the bounty. They often had an identifying mark or a quick depiction of the target.

AERYN VORIAN

Accused of stealing the prized pet of a local warlord. Vorian has a tendency to surround herself with silver and gold treasures, leading to her bounty puck resembling the same. Her presence on Zsoldos was believed to be quick, but she was well protected. A steep price of 5,000,000 credits was placed on her head. The bounty remains unclaimed, though due to it's primitive nature, the target is expected to be deceased.

TORO NOSLOW

Nicknamed "The Bull", Toro was convicted of murdering a farmer and their entire family. The crime was particularly brutal, with the victims being burned alive. The bounty was believed to have been collected by a Rodian female, but the records don't list the price. Toro's head was severed from his body and placed on a pike that stood at the gravesite of his victims.

CORKAD ADEMA

Corkad fled Zsoldos shortly after the bounty was commissioned. Accused of theft, the bounty was set at 800 credits. Corkad was known to have many tattoos, with a very identifiable one being branded onto the bounty puck. The bounty went unclaimed, as many felt the price wasn't worth their time.

SHERIFF BUSHNER

Sheriff Bushner was a corrupt law enforcement officer in Yuanming who often found himself scourging around the underground tunnels connecting the numerous hotels on the continent. He was known to control the flow of illegal drugs into the city. He would constrict flow leading up to election years in order to claim a victory and then open the floodgates afterward to line his own pockets. A replica of the Sheriff's badge was attached to the puck in order to identify the target. The bounty was placed at 990,000 credits but was left unclaimed as many were too frightened of revolt in the city.

