

The "A fistful of credits" TV show!

Written and submitted by Mystic Appius Wight of Clan Vizsla

So let's be quite clear on this, right? What we have here is pure gold. Imagine it... Plagueis versus Vizsla, Vizsla versus Plagueis, the TV spectacle the likes of which will make shows like Game of Thrones and The Witcher green with envy! Violence, drama, romance, comedy, blood and even a little bit of sex if you want it! (Hey, I don't judge.) I'm about to make a pitch for you that will literally change TV history!

TITLE OF THE SHOW

Every good TV show needs a catchy name and this one is no different. The name of this groundbreaking TV show will be...

Vizsla and Plagueis: A Dark Jedi Brotherhood Story.

Got a nice ring to it, don't you think?

TYPE OF SHOW

With such an amazing premise for a show it's hard to summarize the genre. However, for the sake of putting it into wo it will be categorised as both...

Fantasy and Sci-Fi! (Look, it's a galaxy far, far away. Were you really expecting anything else?)

CASTING SUGGESTIONS

We have to look at some serious names and talents for the roles of each of the characters. Luckily, I've already gone ahead and done some of the casting for you saving us a lot of time and effort!

Declan Roark - Matt Damon

Ronovi Tavisaen - Scarlett Johansson

Valhavoc Cole - Christian Bale

Montresor - Chris Evans (the American actor, not the TV presenter.)

Arden Karn di Plaguia - Tom Hardy

Juur Gogh - Sean Bean (hey! at least he doesn't die this time... well, not yet anyways.)

A BRIEF SYNOPSIS

The show will follow the events of the Clan Feud between Vizsla and Plagueis. From the hiring of Juur Gogh by Dark Adept Montresor, to the assassination attempt on Arden Karn di Plagueia, all the way through the fight between Battleteam's Deathwatch and Oppress and beyond. It will focus on the war itself and the internal conflict occurring between both Clans. More specifically, it will point a keen eye on members of each Clan as the story develops and how this feud has changed them. Or not. After all, it's Sith versus Mandalorians. For Sith, they revel in the bloodshed and for Mandalorians, fighting is as natural to them as breathing. "This is the way", after all.

MERCHANDISING

Every decent show has some good quality merchandise to go along with it. When we look at a show like The Mandalorian on Disney plus and we analyse that merchandise we can see everything from T-shirts with the Mandalorian's helmet on them, action figures of Baby Yoda and even replicas of armor and weapons used during the show itself. Merchandise helps one connect to a fanbase as well as makes the fan's connection to the show all the more personal as it shows not only support, but love and care too.

With this in mind, I have come up with three examples of potential merchandising to go along with the show.

1) T-shirts

Now, we can do a lot with these so I'll give you one example. On the shirt itself we have the characters Declan Roark and Montresor hugging, whilst underneath in captions it says "This is the way."

2) Keyrings

From video games to comic books, there have been many examples of these items being kept next to their keys on chains as a means of support. These can be anything from the title of the show itself to images of the main characters.

3) Posters

Every good Sci-Fi and fantasy show needs a good poster. Take a look at Star Wars as a whole and you will easily see it even in the movie production posters when the original trilogy was created. I would put in elements of Vizsla and Plagueis: A Dark Jedi Brotherhood Story into the poster. Not even to give away the plot but just enough to pique interest. Divide the poster in half with key players of Vizsla on one side and Plagueis on the other, ships fighting in the background, lightsabers and blasters illuminate the poster I have in mind. It's at times like this I wish I had artistic talent so I could illustrate it myself but I assure you, it would be magnificent.

I know you specified in the pitch to give one to three examples of merchandising but I would like to add that with purchases online customers have the chance to win exclusive offers. This could be anything from passes on Disney +, to exclusive previews of the show itself and other Disney movies and shows. Not to mention early access to the video game that will no doubt be made from the series itself!

CAST OF CHARACTERS IN FIRST SCENE

Montresor - played by Chris Evans

Juur Gogh - played by Sean Bean

THE FIRST SCENE ITSELF

Ebon Ridge

Zsoldos

37 ABY

(Theme song: 'A credit for your Mando' plays, Camera ducks and weaves through several inhabitants of various races of the galaxy enjoying drinks, gambling and fighting each other. Blaster shots ring out across several directions. Cantina music plays and the camera slows upon a man in civilian clothing. His head slumped in-between his arms as his right hand reaches out to grab a frothy beverage at his side. He lifts his head, gulps half the drink and slams it down as a fight occurs next to him. He pays it no attention, years of experience has taught him to pay no mind to petty squabbles. His commlink beeped from his hip which he ignores at first before finally answering it.)

Juur: What?

(The Voice of Montresor comes through the commlink)

Montresor: Bout time you answered, Gogh. Buck up. I've got an assignment for ya.

Juur: Right. What do you want?

Montresor: Well, that's the tricky part: It's an esteemed member of another clan in the Brotherhood. Lot of our guys feel too squeamish to take it on, but money's money. Some Zabrak chick's offering us a lot of coin to take this individual out. You game?

(Juur finishes his drink and tosses the cup aside, seemingly renewed with newfound vigor. Camera closes in on his face as his lips curve into a slight grin.)

Juur: Sounds stellar. Where to?

(Camera cuts to Scene 2 on Orders Mantell)

CONCLUSION

And that as they say is that! I thank you all for taking the time to read through my pitch and I hope I have done enough to convince you that this show will be a smash hit! I look forward to hearing your feedback and, hopefully your approval!
