

Voidbreaker II's Cosmetic Aspect: By Alaisy Tir'eivra

Never Forget (Space Vehicle Cosmetic)

The Voidbreaker II has had its outside painted in a Sepia tan color. Much of its surface is covered in matt black ribbons that zigzag, twist, turn and coil around in a symmetrical pattern. The outer area of its bridge has an on fleek eyeliner style to it, while the front has a serrated pattern. The underside and back parts of the ship have coiling circular adornments. One of its engines is decorated in a way that resembles where the previous Voidbreaker was first impacted by turbolaser fire. A spot has been marked where the second barrage hit too, with obsidian X's. These tattoo-like impressions have a traditional brushed style look to them, with its edges faded or paint droplets shown. Future scars and scratches on the ship's frame will likely only make it look better.
