HOMEFRONT: ASSAULT ON ARX

The Brotherhood has dealt a huge blow to the Collective recently and rescued a few of the representatives of the clans, most importantly the Deputy Grand Master. Even with that blow, the Collective are still hellbent on taking out the Brotherhood by whatever means necessary.

Now, the Dark Jedi Brotherhood and the Collective have engaged each other directly over the Dark Council world of Arx. Focusing on the Shadow Academy's high orbital platform, the NESOLAT, the Collective plans to take the valuable ancient artifacts, weapons, and personnel that would help ensure their victory over the Brotherhood.

The Collective have a new weapon to unleash, a project that has taken years to achieve: THE HIVE MIND MARINES. These soldiers work in sync, as one unit. Their only objective: to destroy any Force user that gets in their path.

While the Dark Councils forces engage the Collective, a call for aid has been sent out to the Clans and the Brotherhood's newest allies: the Principate and the Tenixir Revenants.

As the full force of the Dark Council, the Clans and their new allies take on the newest of the Collectives abominations, time will tell if their power will be enough to overcome the enemy. Will this battle finally be the one that brings about the swift end of the Collective? Or will this be the beginning of the end for the Brotherhood?
