

New Tython
29 ABY

This story came a long time ago, but is one of the milestones of the Clan Odan-Urr. The clan that is a proud member of the Brotherhood. But as usual no one is laying on rose petals.

And we must remember that these roses have sharp thorns.

It is written 29 years after the Battle of Endor. Clan Odan-Urr is newly created by the group. It is a Light Side Clan. They found their home at New Tythron. And they lived here happily and satisfied forever ...

Unfortunately, the story of Clan Odan-Urr is not a fairy tale. No happy ending didn't play. On the contrary.

The members of the newly formed clan soon must pass for their exam. The war will take their home and their lives.

The Grand Master Muz Ashen didn't like the new clan because they were Jedi. On which Darth Sidious has already declared hunting during the Empire. The man feared for his position and position, and the protective activities of the Odan-Urr Clan were also of no use to him. Therefore, he mobilized all Clans and combat forces and convinced them of the threat of a new clan.

The forces of The Dark Brotherhood then attacked New Tython with the intention of destroying the Jedi Clan once and for all.

However, the prospects do not look good for the Odan-Urr Clan because the forces of The Brotherhood are much more numerous. However, even the Clan is not defenseless. The Mandalorian Clan Ooroo has promised to help fight the Brotherhood's forces. Which, in a way, was a miracle, because the Mandalorians and Jedi were never very much in love.

One of the members of the Clan was a young Jedi named Elyon de Neverse. She was a remnant of old times. She had once faced possible destruction from the Sith. Therefore, she did everything to help secure the temple and its surroundings, because there were rare relics.

"The superiority will be enormous, but we will not give up. We will hold a defensive perimeter around the temple until the very end. And do you know why?" Said one of the members of the Clan Council and waiting for the reaction of the Jedi who were at the forefront of the crowd ready to fight.

"Because we are Odan-Urr!" He called and the rest joined him. They proclaimed the name of their clan as proof of pride and belonging.

The fight was fierce and relentless. And the members of the Brotherhood were ruthless. Elyon fought with her head held high but felt pain at the same time. Terrible pain when she saw life fading around her due to human pettiness and fear of losing power.

She managed to stop for a moment and look at the combat scenery. The Mandorians fight like lions. They had no mercy either. Two armies cut themselves into the other in order to gain an advantage with a win. Elyon's heart cried over it. She fought for the freedom of her clan and for the right to life.

The losses were on both sides. Masters and padawans fell dead to the ground like lots of someone cutting off guide wires.

The war claimed many lives. Elyon also survived this attempt to exterminate the Jedi from the galaxy. She herself knows that this war has changed her, as have the rest of the Odan-Urr Clan.

To this day, stories are told about famous battles and heroes. To this day, people worship the memory of those who defended the clan. A clan that has existed for ten years and its members have passed many trials ... but many are still waiting ...

Clan Odan-Urr forever !!
