

Das Depu Epu Sea

Das Depu Epu Sea is a small street cart named in homage to both the seas of Naboo and the great Gungan poem. Owned by Orthu an exiled Gungan it serves up street food versions of Gungan specialties. The cart is has a no-frills approach and no seating. It is an acquired taste that makes it either people's favorite or they hate it.

Raw fish served in rolls of various sea plants and sauces that can smell much worse than they taste is the cuisine. Having taken the food made it so one can return to the stands and eat with their appendages has made it popular as well especially among the gamblers who can't be bothered with time away from the track.
