4. The Tenxir Ambusher is relatively a big vessel. The main function of the ship is to ambush and lock smaller vessels at the front of it by using mobile rings on its sides. The rings while deactivated are joined together. The tall structures on ends of the rings make a barrier around caught ship to malfunction its electrical components. At the rings are cannons, to defend against outside and inside of the ring enemies. The two large front cannons are used as main weapon against every enemy ship.
