

Dossier: “Meyrath Rizara”

Species: Zabrak

Sex: Male

Eyes: Red. (Note: The right eye appears to be blind, or near-blind. Approach from his right side if attacking.)

Hair: White. Partially shaved.

Height: 6’1”

Weight: Approx. 160lbs (Note: Very little muscular structure. Will be easy to bring down.)

Other features: Eight horns; extensive cultural tattoos; appears to have some form of albinism.

Force Sensitivity: Unknown. (Note: He keeps to himself, I haven’t had many sightings, but from what I see, he appears clumsy and disorganized. I highly doubt the force has anything to do with him.)

Combat Abilities: Unknown. (Note: He is skilled with a knife when chopping vegetables. Other than that, he has not demonstrated any combat abilities that I have seen.)

Position: Cook aboard the vessel “Voidbreaker”.

Behavior: Rizara is one of the newer members here, and from what I have seen, he tends to keep to himself either in his quarters or within the kitchen area. He thinks highly of himself, and out of all the members aboard his vessel, he gravitates towards the company of the Shistavanen “Kathka Togrим”. (See dossier: Kathka Togrим.) He responds well to the nickname “Mey”.

History: I was unfortunately unable to gather much history on this member. His life appears as insignificant as he does. The only remarkable thing I found was his criminal record from Coruscant for assault and battery. Judging by the mugshot, it's safe to say he lost whatever fight he was in.

Threat Level: Minimal

Conclusion: He's a fry cook. Safe to say, he'll probably be running when the fighting starts. Just shoot him in the back.
