

Item Prototype Name : Red Terramorph Snail

Category: Mollusk

Rarity: Uncommon

Cost: 10,000

Description:

Red Terramorph Snail mutated from Duracrete Snail (which are well known for eating minerals), They were fed with Red Crystals at Arcona's research labs, as an experiment on how this kind of diet would affect them.

As presented at picture - specimen got: grown both on sides, and top crystal spikes as a defence against crystal raptors. Also crystal plates at the top of the body, and two extra spikes coming from its mouth.

Only male specimens have the spike maze at the end of the tail.

They can easily consume Red Crystals, and dispose of them as nutrients in their bodies.

At the moment there are 10 breeding pairs, and 30 which are not ready to breed adult Red Terramorph Snails.

They can breed every 30 days, of which one breeding pair can have up to 5 snails per this period of time.
