Name: Synergy Technology Inc. Ascendant crystal-wave blast rifle

Item class: Blaster Sniper Rifle

Proposed shop: Antei Armaments

Proposed rarity: legendary/exotic

Description: The Ascendant Crystal-wave Blast Rifle combines the traditional high powered properties and designs of military sniping blasters with the powerful abilities of the Ascendant Crystals. The weapon houses a series of Ascendant Crystals within a shielded section of the focusing array, just after the main focusing crystals. The weapon can select between running the blaster energy through the primary crystals which creates a powerful yet stable shot, or it can run the energy through the additional crystals as well. Running the weapon through the crystals creates what is referred to as a hot-shot and creates a highly powerful yet unstable plasma bolt, this plasma bolt has a significantly shorter range than the primary one and explodes with considerable thermal force on impact, as such it is not advisable to use in close quarters. This tradeoff is often seen as valuable as it gives the user excessive punch at medium range should it be required and dispenses with the need to have overcharge features on the weapon.
