

Yuanming Impact Zone

The upheaval of the Crystals impact is still taking shape outside of Yuanming. Boulders and rocks litter the impact zone. The crystal formations are ever changing as they grow at a rapid pace. What was solid ground one minute can be a crystal spire the next. A strange fog fills the air making breathing hard and exhausting. Blinding flashes of light appear inside the formations at irregular intervals.

The growing crystals are causing the earth to shake making it difficult to find stable footing. Crystals are also colliding and breaking off causing them to fall back to the ground. Coupled with the war and the possible intrusion of the crystalline monsters it has become an unexpected and deadly place.