Description & Loadout

Physical Description

This character is a middle-aged Human man of slim-to-average build. He has fair skin, his auburn hair is short, with a longer top than sides. He wears a short full beard that is well kept. He has grey-blue eyes. He has one distinguishing mark on his face, a small mole mark on his forehead.

General Aspects

Problem Solver

This Character looks at any problem they come across and instead of immediately complaining about it sets out to figuring out a solution. They will work tirelessly to find workarounds or a solution, but can often overthink the resolution and come up with a "fix" that is actually more complex than needed. This driven approach to fixing problems can be helpful at times but grating at others when a simple "restart" would have accomplished the task quicker than re-programming the entire device.

Hello There

This character has a penchant for appearing in the right place at the right time. When they do appear, it is often a welcome sight for their friends and allies. This also often puts this character into complicated and dangerous situations.

Personality Aspects

I Am Selfless

The Jedi are selfless, caring only about others. This character is compassionate, brave and always strives to represent the common good. They try to help everyone they can, even at their own expense, and are a fine role model for others to follow.

You Were the Chosen One!

This Character has been deeply damaged by betrayal of someone close to them. While they could not end that person's life, they carry the weight of that choice with them always.

Combat Aspects

So Uncivilized This Character is capable of using blasters, with some skill, but prefers to use a lightsaber above a blaster.	I Have The High Ground This character knows when a fight is over and will allow his opponents the opportunity to yield. They prefer not to kill, but have the skill to end the fight there.
