

Pleasant melt and dig in your mouth

Firstly Archian would invite for a date at his campsite ( and sent Tajga away to the jungle for one night for having fun there with Chiilaks).

He would take out the matured in seasonings and salt Borcatu diced meat from the underground basement. Next he would set up the bonfires around the rustical handmade wooden table for two, and layer it with flower petals. He would also set up metal poles in the center of each bonfire to melt a wax incense placed at the top of them.

Also he would put on new freshly washed robes, which he would spray with a little bit of Rodian pheromones ( especially ordered from unknown source).

He would also prepare much bigger <sup>1</sup>The meat would be from a wild Bantha. Slowly roasted to take off excess fat, but also to empower the inside stuffed with rotted vegetables (potatoes), and grown by himself garlic and onion The outside skin would be covered with the mix of a ketchup, fruit vinegar, smoked paprika, and mustard. It would keep the meal warm, but also make the skin crunchy, and meat full of arom.

The Borcatu diced meat would be putted inside of the large saucepan, and slowly stewed in the red wine, with additional a few whole cloves, five season, and sweet potatoes, all of this would reduce slowly, and with additional bit of flour at the end made a delicious thick sauce.

As a dessert it would be the frozen Attack Stohl, with Shiraz, wine and fruits cutted in cubes.

Other activities which would take place would be;

Massage with soft paws, the drinking challenge, and very intimate hugging each other.